International Business

Our International Business team is dedicated to delivering biological crop production solutions in regions where we do not have a local Andermatt presence. Through partnerships with trusted distributors, we create new opportunities for growers seeking effective, biological alternatives.

Our role is to facilitate collaboration, drawing on the expertise within Andermatt to expand and strengthen our footprint across global markets.

From the first point of contact through to successful commercialization, our knowledgeable and passionate teams provide dedicated support at every step of the journey. With trust and commitment at the core, we proudly bring Andermatt solutions to growers worldwide.

A Global Network of Biological Experts: Working with growers and partners, to support clearly defined sustainable agriculture practices

Our teams bring local insight, cultural understanding, and scientific excellence to support growers, home and garden users, and beekeepers across the globe.

Healthy Food and Healthy Environment, for all
