

A Global Network of Biological Experts

A Message from our CEO

At Andermatt, our mission has always been clear: to shape the future of agriculture through innovative biological solutions. What began as a pioneering vision more than three decades ago has grown into a global movement, one that places science, sustainability, and the success of growers at the heart of everything we do.

Today, Andermatt stands as a trusted partner in over 60 countries, united by a shared belief in the power of biological solutions to support and enhance crop production. Our teams around the world work with dedication and integrity to provide effective solutions that help growers meet the challenges of modern agriculture while supporting responsible agricultural practices.

As a proudly independent family and employee-owned company, we have the freedom to invest for the long term. This means investing in research and innovation, expanding our presence across diverse markets, and building partnerships rooted in trust and shared values. Our goal is not only to replace conventional chemical inputs, but to continue expanding the role of biological solutions in modern agriculture by making them practical, effective and accessible.

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about who we are and what we stand for. Whether you are a grower, partner, advisor or fellow innovator, we look forward to working with you to advance biological agriculture together.
